Labels

Labels are used for marking and information sharing.

Labels are available in a variety of different shapes and sizes. Labels are used for sharing information. This information can be in the form of a bar code, which is readable with a scanner, a company logo, dangerous goods marking, or some other information needed in the supply chain.

In addition to labelling tapes Nefab also supplies placard holders. These could be simple plastic holders, label holders for self-adhesive labels, or holders in metal or plastic. Nefab can supply placard holders according to customer need.
